

Monologues

As Leading Player: Ladies and Gentlemen, we apologize for our inability to bring you the Finale that we promised. It seems our extraordinary young man has elected to compromise his aspirations. But I know there are many of you out there...extraordinary people...exceptional people...who would gladly trade your ordinary lives for the opportunity to do one perfect act—our Grand Finale. Now, if you should decide to do so, we'll be there for you...waiting...anytime you want us. Why, we're right inside your heads! And we promise you sets, costumes, lights, magic...and a short—but spectacular career!

26 Jour - ney through 27 our an - ec - dot - ic re - vue. 28 29 We've got mag -

Start

30 ic to do, 31 just for you. We've got mir 32 a - cle plays to play.

33 We've got parts 34 to per - form, hearts 35 to warm,

36 kings and things to take 37 by storm as 38 we go a - long our way...

39 40 41 42